

STUDIO KO

Parisian architects and life partners Karl Fournier and Olivier Marty are Studio KO, acclaimed for their sculptural, minimalistic designs of public institutions and private villas, whose sweeping lines often echo the knockout settings. Morocco (where they have an office) is the location of their most memorable structures, including Pierre Bergé's newly opened Musée Yves Saint Laurent. And there's plenty more to see in this pair's engrossing book. Karl Fournier and Olivier Marty (text by Tom Delevan), Rizzoli, $140

LE CORBUSIER: THE COMPLETE BUILDINGS

Modernist aficionados will revel in this comprehensive tour of the acclaimed architect's work across three continents, captured by photographer Cemal Emden. Featuring interiors and exteriors, angles and details across 52 buildings, projects range from Switzerland's Villa Vallet, built in 1905 to the groundbreaking Unit d'Habitation in Marseille completed in 1947, complemented by insightful essays by scholars and architects. Cemal Emden, Prestel, $90

THE OTHER MODERNS

This is an insight into the development of Australian Modernism, highlighting the work of European architects, designers and furniture-makers. While émigré architect Harry Seidler is virtually a household name, little is known of his contemporaries such as Henry Epstein and Hugo Stossel, and designers George Korody and Susan Kozma-Orlay, whose works surround us today. Rebecca Hawcroft (ed), NewSouth Publishing, $49.99

Top picks

At Home with Dogs and their Designers Living in style with a pet. Jonathan Adler to Kelly Wearstler show how. Rizzoli, $70

Joseph Dirand Interior Elegance personified in the chic French architect's monograph. Rizzoli, $120

Andrew Martin Interior Design Review The 21st Volume cites the world's top 100 designers of 2017. TeNeues, $120

Ho Chi Minh City in 12 Dishes A travel guide like no other. RedPorkPress, $24.99

Small House Living Australia Stylish plans under 90sqm. Viking, $39.99

GARDEN: WILLIAM DANGAR

A "horticultural hipster who knows his trees" is how media chief John Hartigan describes landscaper, entrepreneur and former Belle garden editor William Dangar in his foreword to this book. On show are 21 of the pick of his garden projects (many on Sydney Harbour) with Prue Ruscoe's images and Karen McCartney's text giving us entry to these magnificent properties. Karen McCartney, Murdoch Books, $59.99

Fully booked
Holiday reading, gift ideas sorted.

GRAND MELBOURNE GARDENS

The city within the 'Garden State' has an abundance of public gardens, expansive parks and leafy streets. But behind soaring walls and wrought-iron fences lie some of the city's seldom-seen green treasures that adorn the stunning homes at their heart. Architect David Wilkinson's volume celebrates 35 of these exclusive spaces with a further 15 eye-opening gardens he admires from around Melbourne. David Wilkinson, Thames & Hudson, $70

THE HOUSE THAT PINTEREST BUILT

Diane Keaton always wanted to live in a home 'surrounded by the beauty of simplicity and the reassurance of a repeated element'. When she came to build her dream home she was urged by friend, film director Nancy Meyers to consult Pinterest for ideas, and it became a journey of discovery and a beautiful obsession. Images of elements including staircases, seating, ladders, pools and books are stunning in their simplicity, and sure to inspire those seeking to create their own sanctuary. Diane Keaton, Rizzoli, $120

ANDY WARHOL: THE IMPOSSIBLE COLLECTION THE DEFINITIVE TOME OF THE POP ICON'S WORK, TRACING HIS PROLIFIC CAREER FROM THE 40S TO THE 80S. ERIC SHINER, ASSOULINE, $1200